ALEXANDRIA WINS ANNEXATION CASE

Court of Appeals Reverses Judge B T Gordon of Nelson

GETS ALL SHE CLAIMS

Decision is Final—When Decree Shall Have Been Entered This City Will Assume Jurisdiction.

Early this afternoon it was announced in this city that the Court of Appeals at Richmond had reversed Judge B. T. Gordon, of Nelson county, who presided in the Circuit Court for Alexandria county in which tribunal this city instituted suit for the annexation of certain contiguous territory some months ago. It was later ascertained that Samuel G. Brent, Commonwealth's Attorney, had received a dispatch announcing the decision of the court which gives Alexandria city all the territory claimed and setting aside Judge Gordon's decision which was adverse to the city. When this decree shall have been signed all the territory north, northwest and west of this city claimed at the institution of the suit will become part of Alexandria city. This is final, no further formalities being required.

The decision of the Court of Appeals was soon being telephoned throughout the city, and the greatest satisfaction was expressed.

Later the Gazette received the following dispatch from Richmond:

Richmond, Va., March 11, 1915—Judge Hartwell, of the Supreme Court of Appeals, today delivered an opinion in the appeal of the city of Alexandria in the annexation case which was decided adversely to the city by Judge Gordon, of Nelson, in the suit brought by Alexandria against the counties of Fairfax and Alexandria counties for adjoining territory. The opinion handed down today awards the city all territory claimed, and after it shall have been signed the territory will be annexed to the city without any further formality, as the decree reverses Judge Gordon entirely.

"EDUCATE THE MINISTER."

Suffrage Leader Tells of Woman's Power in the Church.

Indianapolis, March 11.—"Educate the minister. Prevail upon him to have the moral courage to speak from the pulpit on things material If the church and the minister come to the front and face the problem squarely as they should, suffrage would win."

"Why should not ministers be interested in the affairs of women? She pays four-fifths of the church debt, and she forms four-fifths of the audience on Sunday. The minister must concern himself in things vital to his income and success."

Richmond, March 11.—The local police department was requested by the Ashland police Tuesday night to endeavor to arrest Henry Lewis, colored, who shot his wife to death on the platform of the Richmond and Chesapeake Bay Railway station in Ashland early last night. Domestic trouble is said to have caused the murder.

After the shooting, Lewis made his escape, and is thought to have started for Richmond.

NEWS OF THE DAY

A schoolyard snowball fight in Camden, N. J., resulted fatally for 9-year-old Thelma Howell, who died yesterday from the effects of a snowball blow received ten days ago. She was struck on the head. Last week she lost consciousness which she never recovered.

During the recent fighting near Grodno, in Poland, it is stated that a single German corps lost from 12,000 to 15,000 killed alone. It alleged that the additional losses in wounded and prisoners resulted in almost total annihilation of the entire corps of 40,000 men. This defeat was responsible for the German retreat from Grodno.

It is reported in Copenhagen the Kaiser's son-in-law, Duke Ernst of Brunswick, is suffering from an incurable nervous breakdown. He was seized with the attack while with the German artillery in France. His mental condition is said to be grave. The duke married Princess Victoria Luise, only daughter of the Kaiser.

Mrs. Florence Mayo, 55 years old living at Scranton, Pa., for the last fifteen years, with her three daughters, declares she is the wife of Virginus J. Mayo, the New Haven manufacturer who came into prominence recently through the suicide of Lillian May Cook and the disclosure showing that Mayo maintained a home in New Haven for one Mrs Mayo and another in Brooklyn, N Y., where a Miss Lois Waterbury posed also, as his wife. Mrs. May asserted that the manufacturer deserted her in New York fifteen years ago and that no divorce has ever been obtained by either.

The increased price of bread was responsible Tuesday for violent clashes between the police and workmen in the naval arsenal at Lisbon The police used their weapons freely and many persons were injured before the disturbance was ended.

MURDER AND SUICIDE

Chilean Follows Victim to Rome Where He Kills Her and Himself.

Rome, March 11.—With the body of Countess Blanche Hamilton, still beautiful in death, lying in her luxurious apartment awaiting burial and Antonio Cienfugos, a wealthy South American, dying from self-inflicted wounds the final chapter of a romance of three continents is being written here.

Cienfuegos shot and killed the countess Tuesday night after following her through South and North America and Europe, Several times he overtook her and pleaded for her to show him the love she accorded him when they first met in Chile a few years ago.

The final parting occurred in Paris three weeks ago. After spurning Cienfuegos again the countess fled to Rome and hid here, fearing he would carry out his threats to kill her. Cienfuegos arrived here Sunday and traced his former sweetheart through a mutual acquaintance Then he secured apartments Tuesday afternoon near those occupied by the countess.

After he had waited for three hours Cienfuegos heard the countess enter her apartments. Breaking down the door when she refused to open it for him, he fired six shots at his victim, all of which took effect.

In his rage Cienfuegos tore all the clothing from the body of the countess, and dragged her lifeless victim about the apartment by her hair.

Count Noll Da Costa, who lives in the same building, rushed to the countess' apartment when he heard the shots there. Cienfuegos held him at bay with his revolver for ten minutes and then fired a shot into his own body over the heart.

Countess Blanche was a member of a socially prominent Swedish family. Her father was Count Stephen Fitzjames Hamilton reputed to be a millionaire. During the period that she loved Cienfugeos the two are said to have spent considerable time in Washington and New York.

Albert Stuart, colored, was fined $5 in the Police Court today for slapping Mabel Portner, colored.

RED CROSS WORKERS.

Madame Mountford to Lecture in Young People's Building Tomorrow Night.

We wonder how many people in Alexandria realize the amount of work that is being done by our Red Cross Workers. They meet once a week for the purpose of making surgical supplies, hospital garments, mufflers, etc., to be shipped to head quarters in New York for distribution wherever needed most in Europe. The cry for help and pity come to us day by day from the dying and tortured souls there, who look to America for help and mercy. And through the Red Cross we feel that each one who offers assistance in this work is enabling them to carry on their errand of mercy and love to their fellow-men.

The second box of supplies has been shipped and acknowledged as follows:

New York, March 5, 1915

Red Cross Workers of Alexandria:

In reply to your letter of March 4th, we are pleased to inform you that we have received at the Bush Terminal what we consider is a contribution from you and a number of your friends.

Assuring you that we appreciate all that you are doing for the Red Cross, we are

Very truly yours,
ALBERT W. STAUB.

"The Girls' Friendlies" of Grace and Trinity Methodist Churches have also received acknowledgements of boxes shipped. Others will follow soon.

Madame Mountford, who is well known in Alexandria, and also deeply interested in this philanthropic work, has consented to give her interesting lecture, "Life in Jerusalem," and "Sackcloth and Ashes" in the Young People's Building tomorrow night at 8 o'clock. The lecture will be accompanied with illustrations

NEGRO SETS FIRE TO JAIL.

Prisoner Held Fo rArson Tries to Escape From Prison.

Fredericksburg, Va., March 11.—Cleveland Johnson, a negro, in jail at Stafford Court House, charged with burning the store of W. P. Stephens at Brooke, set fire to the jail Sunday night in an attempt to escape. A hole was burned in the roof and the prisoner had escaped over the top of the building before he was found by R. G. Dent.

He was recaptured and the grand jury indicted him Monday on three charges, breaking into the store of Mr. Stephens, burning the store and attempting to burn the jail. The trial was set for Thursday.

To The Public

In reply to the statement of the Robert Portner Brewing Company of March 3rd, 1915, the strikers, who were former employees of said firm, wish to deny the statement.

First: There is not an enormous increase in the wage scale unless 25 cents per day might be classed as such which was all that was asked in the new contract. The elimination of the clause giving the firm the right to discharge employes in case of dull business. The reason this clause was omitted was that the Portner Brewing Company might take the same unfair advantage of the labor unions as they have heretofore done. This clause was inserted in our contract to get the said firm to sign our former contract. This clause was in the Washington contracts on account of loss of business due to the Jones-Workes Bill which was to to take effect Nov. 1, 1914. The Portner Brewery Co., knowing that this clause was in the Washington contracts, refused to sign unless the same clause was inserted in their contract.

The local unions, wishing to be fair, and thinking that the Robert Portner Brewing Co., would not take unfair advantage of this clause, agreed to insert the same. Now we desire to show how the firm took unfair advantage of this clause. This trouble could have been avoided had the firm kept their word as all men of honor would have done. The firm had given their word that they would lay off all extra help and boys before laying off the union men. This word was given Oct. 1914 by the Secretary of the Robert Portner Brewing Co., when they were given permission to hire outside men to stock up the depots in the south to evade the Government war tax on intoxicating liquors. Instead of living up to their agreement to lay off all extra help and boys, they laid off two of the brewers and four of the bottlers, holding two nonunion men and four minors. After the committee had waited on the Brewery Co. this was the communication they received:

"Although present conditions indicate that additional men might have been discharged, particularly in the bottling department, we will agree to continue our present force including the six men who have been discharged or received notice of discharge and work under the five day a week plan as long as business conditions require it (with the understanding that the union waive the clause of 6 days constituting a week) Providing that this will not waive the discharge clause, which will be exercised if business conditions demand it. This proposition could not be accepted as it would have been a strict violation of clause 8 of our contract," as follows:

"In case of dull business the firm has the right to lay off (after all extra help is lain off) from its regular working force members, of Bottlers local 251 for one certain day in the week but no longer than any three months in the year."

Now if the firm had been half as loyal to the union men as they claim they will be to the strike breakers and men who are not tax payers of this city, they would not have this trouble today.

TAX REFORM PLAN IS NOW COMPLETE

Bills Recently Passed Ready For Governor's Signature

SEGREGATION WINS

Long Night Session of Legislature Puts Finishing Touches on Measures Presented.

Richmond, March 11—Spectacular proceedings in the House of Delegates yesterday did not prevent the speeding to their passage of the remainder of the series of tax measures. Business was expedited by the House as never before during the special session.

At the morning and afternoon sessions all of the Senate bills of the tax reform batch, with one or two exceptions were passed. At the afternoon and night sessions House bills that had been returned from the Senate with the emergency clause attached to them were passed. In accepting these bills with the emergency clause, the anti-segregationists capulated to the administration forces. They had sent the bills to the Senate only after eliminating the emergency clause now restored.

The victory of the segregationists is now complete. Nothing remains to insure the establishment in Virginia of the partial segregation system of taxation, but for the Governor to sign the bills. The merchants' license tax measure, however, which the segregationists are eager to have passed remains in doubt. It is not an essential feature of the tax reform system. If it is permitted to go over to the next General Assembly the segregationists will not feel that their victory has been materially affected.

The House bills of the tax system series, which had been amended by the Senate so as to carry the emergency clause, were returned to the House yesterday afternoon, and at the night session they were taken up and passed. House bill 103, the original segregation bill, was in the batch passed. It had been amended by the Senate to make it immediately effective.

An effort to secure for House bill 114 reconsideration of the vote by which that measure was rejected precipitated a long discussion. This is the measure permitting circuit courts of counties or judges in vacation and corporation courts to extend the regular annual session of the local boards of review and to provide compensation for members of the boards and their clerks. The House finally voted to reconsider, but when the bill reached roll call only 47 ayes were recorded against 22 noes, and it was rejected, failing to receive the necessary 51 votes.

An interesting feature of the night session was the adoption of the Heflin resolution calling upon Delegate Powell to make good his charges against Judge R. H. L. Chichester and the speech of Mr. Powell, challenging the legal right of Mr. Heflin to his seat in the House. Mr. Powell charged Mr. Heflin with having retained his seat after he had moved out of the district from which he was elected. Mr. Heflin while not denying that he was a resident of Westmoreland County while representing King George and Stafford in the body, asserted that he was "the duly accredited representative" of the two counties forming the district he represents.

BOY ATTEMPTS SUICIDE

Jumped Overboard After He Was Prevented By Children From Cutting Throat

Norfolk, March 11—Because Roy Phelps, aged about 7 years, received bad conduct marks on his report from his teacher in the Robert Gatewood school, he jumped into the river Tuesday with the declared determination to drown himself.

On receiving the reprimand, he declared in school to his mates that he was going to drown himself just as soon as school closed. His class was dismissed shortly after 2 o'clock and he struck a bee line for the river with a number of the boys who went for the purpose of preventing him carrying out his threats of suicide.

On being deterred from his attempt to jump into the river as soon as he reached its banks he drew his pocket knife and said he was going to cut his throat, but this was taken from him, and at this he broke away from the boys and plunged into the water of Pascara Creek, from the Maple avenue bridge. He floundered around in the water until one of the larger school boys fished him out.

YOUNG WIFE REAPPEARS.

Mrs. Griffin said that she left her home here Friday morning with the intention of doing a little shopping. She met an old friend on the street, a girl acquaintance, who asked Mrs. Griffin to accompany her to the train as he was leaving for Raleigh, N. C. Mrs. Griffin did this, and upon their arrival at the station the young woman asked Mrs. Griffin to accompany her to Raleigh.

BRITISH VESSELS PUMPING SHELLS

Silence Batteries at Entrance to Dardanelles Narrows

GERMANS AT THE GUNS

Russian Black Sea Fleet Raid Turkish Coaling Stations and Sink Five Steam Craft.

London, March 11.—Under orders to silence her batteries at any cost, four British warships are pumping sehlls at the Turkish fort Namazieh, at the entrance to the Dardanelles Narrows, according to latest dispatches from Athens today.

The bombarding battleships are steaming slowly up and down the strait, firing at Namazieh at a range of several miles, their big Krupps splashing the water with a rain of projectiles, while Fort Kilid Bahr, nearer the water's edge, interrupts the duel with an occasional salvo from her guns.

Kalid Bahr, guarding the Narrows entrance on the European side, has been badly damaged. No gun fire has come from Chanak, on the Asiatic side, opposite Kilid Bahr, for several days. If the allied fleet succeeds in demolishing the Krupp positions on Namazieh, it will move into close range and complete the destruction of Kilid Bahr.

All Athens dispatches agree today that the Queen Elizabeth and her supporting warships are meeting the sternest kind of opposition from Namazieh. Twenty-four modern Krupps of various calibers are mounted in the fort's batteries, high on the hill overlooking Kilid Bahr. The whole work is supported by three batteries, each mounting four guns. German officers are believed to be directing the artillery fire.

No firing has been heard from the direction of Smyrna for twenty-four hours, according tto dispatches from the Island of Tenedos. It was rumored at Athens that Rear Admiral Peirse, commanding the British squadron, has consented to a suspension of hostilities to give non-combatants time to leave Smyrna

Constantinople, March 11.—Bombarding four Turkish coaling ports on the south shore of the Black Sea, a Russian fleet o nSunday sank five steamers, damaged three other ships, and set fire to the town of Kozlu, according to an official statement. Among the vessels sunk were an Italian and a Persian steamer.

Interesting News Notes About People of Alexandria—Happenings in Society.

The musical section of the Cameron Club met yesterday afternoon with the chairmen, Mrs. M. W. O'Brien, at the home of her mother, in S. St. Asaph street. The section has taken up American composers for this years' course, and opened with a current event from each present and it was very interesting to learn that Helen Keller is now undertaking vocal training and that Caruso is to be the drawing card at Monte Carlo as the war has interfered with the usual large attendance. Mrs. Roberts gave a splendidly compiled paper on Indian music followed by American Indian melodies artistically interpreted by Mrs. King. Mrs. Downham sung with sweet expression of a group of Indian love lyrics by Amy Woodforde Finden. Miss Lillian Callahan accompanied her on the piano. Mrs. Fowler sang delightfully Chadwick's "I Said to the Southwind."

The next meeting of the music section will be held at the residence of Miss Kate Uhler, in north Washington street.

Mrs. John Leadbeater will read a paper on the interpretation of music through the dance. Her paper will be illustrated by danseures from Washington. Miss Uhler will give a sketch of Ethelbert Nevin, Margaret Ruthven Lang, and Bartlett. Artists from Washington will render the music from these composers.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Green who have been visiting in Knoxville, Tenn. for two weeks, have returned to their home in this city.

THE BLACK BOX

EIGHT HOUSES GUTTED

Early Morning Conflagration in Row of Frames on South Columbus Street.

Fire at 2:40 o'clock this morning gutted eight two-story frame tenaments, seven of them occupied by colored people, situated on the west side of Columbus streets between Wolfe and Wilkes street, known as 425 to 439 south Columbus street. A defective flue was responsible for the blaze.

The firemen worked a little more than two hours before they succeeded in subduing the blaze.

The fire started in the house owned and occupied by Edward Brice, known as 433 and soon spread to the roofs of the three houses directly south of it. The four houses on the south side were damaged the most by fire, although the four on the north side were considerably damaged by water. While the occupants saved most of their effects, they were badly damaged by water and the four houses on the south side were made uninhabitable as a result of the blaze.

The corner place known as 439 was occupied as a saloon by George E. Nightingale and Mr. Nightingale estimates his loss to stock and building at about $300. No estimate as to the damage done the other houses has yet been made.

Several of the colored occupants of the houses upon being aroused jumped from the front window, a distance of about eight feet, scantily clad.

Occupants of the houses were Edward Brice, Carter, Davis, Major, Washington, Ennis, Pollard and Mr. Nightingale, the corner. The corner house belonged to Mr. Nightingale. Others owners are: Jonathan Matthews, two; Edward Brice, one and Dr. George T. Klipstein, four. Damage done the property is covered by insurance. One of the ladders of the truck broke while a fireman was ascending but he escaped injury.

VISIT TO HARRISONBURG

Members of Scottish Rite Bodies of Alexandria Return This Morning.

Members of the Scottish Rite bodies of Alexandria returned today from Harrisonburg, Va., where the degrees in the Ancient and Accepted Scottish Rite of Free Masonry were conferred last night. The ceremonial took place in Masonic Temple under the auspices of Virginia Consistory No. 2 of this city, and was attended by many prominent Masons from points in Northern Virginia.

A large class of candidates was initiated. The fourth, sixth, ninth, and fourteenth degrees were conferred on candidates, while the remaining degrees including the thirty second were communicated.

The initiatory ceremonies were called off from 10:30 o'clock until midnight during which time an elaborate banquet was served in Masonic Banquet Hall.

Twenty-five prominent Masons from Alexandria left here yesterday morning for Harrisonburg. They represented the following Scottish Rite bodies of the city.

Washington Memorial Lodge of Perfection No. 7, comprising the degrees from the fourth to the fourteenth, inclusive.

Randolph Chapter of the Rose Croix, composing the fifteenth, sixteenth, seventeenth, and eighteenth degrees.

Lafayette Council Kadosh comprising the nineteenth to the thirtieth degrees, inclusive.

Virginia Consistory No. 2, comprising the thirty first and thirty second degrees.

These bodies have concurrent jurisdiction over the entire State of Virginia with the exception of Richmond and Henrico County.

The Lodge of Perfection was convened at 7:30 o'clock in the evening when petitions for membership from various candidates from Harrisonburg Front Royal, Alexandria, and elsewhere were received and balloted upon. The initiatory ceremonies then began and continued until 10:30. After midnight the communication of the remaining degrees was resumed and the consistory was in session at an early hour this morning.

The principal floor work was done by A. A. Paul, Venerable Master of Washington Memorial Lodge of Perfection, assisted by Frank W. Latham, registrar of all four bodies; William Lewis Allen, past venerable master and acting senior warden; Henry Knox Field acting junior warden; and James M. Duncan, treasurer. The visitors brought with them elaborate paraphernalia, costumes and scenic efforts used in conferring the degrees.

Venerable Master Paul was toastmaster at the banquet, but the after-dinner speeches were limited because of the great amount of work remaining to be done before daylight. A brief response was made by Henry Knox Field, grand senior warden of the Virginia Grand Lodge of Masons, one of the most prominent members of the craft in the State.

The Alexandrians who made the trip were W. S. Connelly, J. M. Duncan, D. G. Grillborttzer, E. A. Bayliss, H. K. Field, W. L. Allen L. P. Chauncey, C. D. Deal, W. H. Wildt, J. Wm. May, Leo Ruben, B. COURT OF APPEALS SUSTAINS CITY.

Annexation is now assured, the Supreme Court of Appeals of Virginia having today reversed the decision of Judge B. T. Gordon, of Nelson county, who decided against the city in the annexation suit brought by Alexandria some time ago in the Circuit Court for Alexandria county for annexation of contiguous territory west, north and northwest of this city.

This is an end of all argument, as there is no court of last resort to which to appeal, and Alexandria city can now stretch her wings over parts of Alexandria and Fiarfax counties which have virtually sprang from this city.

ANOTHER TARGET.

As was seen by the proceedings of the City Council last Tuesday night, the city's poor house has been practically condemned by the State Board of Charities and Corrections. It has been declared unsuitable for the purpose for which it was erected.

Alexandria seems to have been unfortunate recently. The National Board of Fire Underwriters is endeavoring to prove to the good people of this city that our fire fighting apparatus is not equal to emergencies which might be called upon to test its efficiency, although it is safe to say no city in the common wealth can boast of any greater success in handling fires. But it is not up to date according to this board, who suggest that the department be supplied with motor engines and truck as well as a new company; also that a paid department and fire alarm system are prime necessities.

Our efficient firefighters have, very justly, taken issue with the underwriters, as the former believe our system is efficient and point proudly to their work in the past. We do not intend to thresh over arguments which were urged at a recent meeting of officials and others with representatives of the underwriters. Suffice it to say that the latter were pressed closely during the interchange of views and often the assembly broke out in laughter at the expense of the visitors.

An object lesson might be cited, however, which is now but a few hours old. About three o'clock this morning a fire broke out suddenly in a frame row of houses on south Columbus street. At this quiet hour, when the bulk of the population were asleep the department made a prompt response, and notwithstanding the inflammable nature of the structure the firemen prevented the destruction of a single one of the houses. Notwithstanding the houses were built under one roof all the damage which resulted was in the interior of the frail structures.

The entire community will resent the attack upon our poor house a large and comfortable structure which has frayed storms almost since the days when this part of the Old Dominion was ceded to the government for the purpose of forming part of the District of Columbia. It is a venerable structure which strangers passing in trains often take for one of the baronial structures of colonial days. It has housed hundreds who at times have become stragglers in the march of life and who have passed their declining years under the care of kind keepers, both male and femme.

About thirty years ago, when the [illegible] ion was in charge of a lady [illegible] ok great pride in ministering [illegible] wants of those compelled to be [illegible] of the city, a representative [illegible] Gazette made a visit to the [illegible] ion and wrote a description of [illegible] ons as he found them. He was [illegible] y a citizen a few days later [illegible] he article was impolitic, as it [illegible] tendency to cause some to ap[illegible] or permits to enter the place [illegible] ould live without the city's help.

Like all large structures, it at times needs repairs. Some may be needed now but their nature is by no means serious, and the property will be looked after by the proper committee of the City Council as they have ever done. We are not ashamed of our alms house, which is open at all times for the inspection of citizens. Every Sunday persons from this city visit the institution on different missions. They see nothing to call for criticism.

ENFORCEMENT OF THE DRUG LAW.

The law now in force against the sale of certain drugs except upon prescriptions from physicians is causing acute suffering among thousands who for years have been using different preparations from opium, cocaine, etc. Among those now in distress are many whose friends and intimate acquaintances never suspected of being victims of the insidious practice. Several suicides recently are attributed to the enforcement of the law, as the victims of the dopes have found it impossible to live without them.

The health commissioner of Norfolk has determined to have two of the city physicians at the dispensary for one hour every day, to attend the habitual users of cocaine and other similar drugs.

These physicians will treat those who call at the dispensary for treatment by gradually decreasing the quantity of the drug to be taken with a view of eventually curing them of the habit.

To what extent some of the users will go to obtain the drugs was shown in Norfolk a day or two ago, when one of the "habituals" called at the office of the health commissioner and informed him that he had sold his shoes for $1, and had purchased five grains of the drug with the money. Others have threatened to commit murder if they are unable to get the drug.

The use of "dopes" is ancient. Homer alludes to the practice in his Odessey. Opium eaters and opium smokers in India and China are a menace to the communities in which they live. They use the dangerous drug until they become bereft of reason. Armed with knives and often nude, they rush into the streets and attack any person who has the misfortune to be in their paths. The cry "amuck!" is as terryfying as that of "mad dog!" in the Occident, and women grasp their children, rush into houses and lock the doors. The fiend is chased by policemen, armed with spears, and the dangerous maniac is cornered and destroyed as would be a rattlesnake or a rabid canine.

People who have read De Quincy's "Confessions of an English Opium-eater," will recall the anguish of the author while fighting a habit he had thoughtlessly acquired. The experiences of thousands today are similar to that of De Quincy.

Arrival of German Converted Cruiser At Newport

Newport News, March 11—Capt. H. H. Kiehne, master of the four masted American bark William P. Frye, which was sunk by the German converted cruiser Prinz Eitel Friedrich on the morning of January 28 made the following statement:

"Despite my protestations that I was the American master of an American ship the Eitel Friedrich sank the William P. Frye on the morning of January 28. She blew a gaping hole through her hull with a charge of dynamite.

"I was almost becalmed when the German ship appeared about 2 o'clock in the afternoon of January 27. My ship was barely moving. I paid no attention to the first order from the German to lay to. However, she bore down on me and I thought my craft to a standstill.

"After learning that I carried a cargo of wheat the German captain told me that it was contraband and he intended to destroy it. I protested but no attention was paid to my statements.

"A German officer and squad of men were sent aboard the bark and I and crew were sent to work throwing grain overboard. The German sighted another vessel, also becalmed and made for her. He returned about 10 o'clock at night, having sent the other ship to the bottom, as I afterwards ascertained.

"Evidently the grain was not being thrown overboard fast enough to suit the German skipper for he sent half a hundred men of his aboard soon afterward and the work went on for hours without interruption. However, it was slow at best, and I was informed next morning that my ship would be sent to the bottom, which was done in the manner described.

"It was originally intended by the German captain to leave enough of the cargo in the hole of the ship for ballast. That part of the grain was to be rendered useless by salt water.

"As soon as I was informed that my ship was to be sent to the bottom my wife, myself and two boys and the crew made for the German cruiser in our boats. We were taken on board and shown every courtesy throughout the remainder of the voyage.

"For two weeks before making this port the German ship did not molest any ships, but always avoided them. Her captain did not wish to give the British cruisers an inkling of her presence. She proceeded slowly up the coast. All lights that were not out were carefully shaded.

Capt. Kiehne said that the Eitel Friedrich sent three ships to the bottom on the Kaiser's birthday, the day on which the American bark was overhauled. He did not remember their names.

The William F. Frye, of Bath, Me was owned by Arthur Sewell, company. Sewell ran for the Vice Presidency with Bryan in 1900.

Capt. Thieirchsen, of the Eitel Friedrich, says he ordered the destruction of the American bark William P. Frye, because she carried contraband of war. He says he and other officers of his ship held a conference and it was decided that the cargo of wheat carried by the Frye was contraband and they decided to destroy the vessel.

Judge Issues Statement Replying to Delegate Powell's Charges

Richmond, March 11—"The sensation caused in the House of Delegates yesterday when Delegate S. P. Powell of Pittsylvania, charged from the foor that Judge R. H. L. Chichester, of the Fifteenth judicial circuit, has been guilty of gross political corruption; that he had deliberately padded the electoral board of that county so that he could control the next primaries, and that he violated the Constitution when he appointed Fred Fraser, deputy treasurer and land assessor of Spotsylvania county, to the county electoral board, is still the theme of conversation. Delegate Powell was in the midst of a tirade against Judge Chichester when Speaker Cox declared a recess.

When the House reassembled a volley of questions were fired at Delegate Powell, who had resumed the floor to speak against the bill providing for the appointment of members of the board of local review by corporation or by circuit court judges.

"I repeat that I am able to prove the charges I have made," said Mr. Powell. "I said, and I repeat, that the Judge's appointments are made with reference to their political significance, but I do not charge the Judge with moral turpitude. I charge political corruption and not dishonesty or immorality."

Delegate Heflin gained the and said he would introduce a resolution requesting a thorough investigation of the charges against Judge Chichester.

"I deny them and defy the gentleman to prove the charges, 'he said.

Responding to a telephone message asking him to come to Richmond and face the charge of political corruption entered against him in the House of Delegates yesterday morning by Deelgate S. P. Powell, of Spotsylvania County, Judge R. H. L. Chichester arrived in Richmond early last night, and, after a conference with several friends issued a definite and categorial denial of all the accusations. He denied that he had ever packed the electoral board, as charged by Mr. Powell, and that he had knowingly appointed a deputy treasurer as a member of the electoral board in violation of the provisions of the State Constitution. As to the question of the eligibility of the deputy treasurer to hold office in the electoral board, his friends stated that it was an issue that had never been decided, and that many other judges had followed the same practice as that of Judge Chichester.

Further in his signed statement, Judge Chichester states that he did not know at the time of the appointment of Mr. Frazier that he was a deputy treasurer, and that if there had been question at the time of the appointment he would not have given the position to Mr. Frazier.

Judge Chichester courts investigation, and is unwilling that further efforts be made to have Mr. Powell withdraw his allegations. Much preferably he would have the most complete examination of his official record, and says he is willing to abide by the results. There was some disposition among the jurist's friends ot ridicule the charges made by Mr. Powell, but Judge Chichester would have none of this, believing, he stated, that the judiciary should be above reproach and suspicion.

Under the resolution introduced by Delegate Heflin, of King George County, and adopted by the House last night, Mr. Powell must put his charges in writing and accompany them with such proof as he may be able to bring.

BETTER THAN CALOMEL
Thousands Have Discovered Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets are a Harmless Substitute

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets—the substitute for calomel—are a mild but sure laxative, and their effect on the liver is almost instantaneous. They are the result of Dr. Edwards' determination not to treat liver and bowel complaints with calomel. His efforts to banish it brought out these little olive-colored tablets.

These pleasant little tablets do the good that calomel does but have no bad after effects. They don't injure the teeth like strong liquids or calomel. They take hold of the trouble and quickly correct it. Why cure the liver at the expense of the teeth? Calomel sometimes plays havoc with the gums. So do strong liquids.

It is best not to take calomel, but to let Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets take its place.

Most headaches, "dullness" and that lazy feeling come from constipation and a disordered liver. Take Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets when you feel "loggy" and "heavy." Note how they "clear" clouded brain and how they "perk up" the spirits. At 10c and 25c per box. All druggists.
